

Savings 3

Enjoy looking forward to a bright future!

Attend to your personal savings target

Savings 3 with Zuger Kantonalbank is the individual savings plan that is not only an important way to supplement the so-called 1st pillar (state old-age and invalidity insurance schemes – AHV/IV) and 2nd pillar (occupational and accident insurance schemes – IV/UVG), but also offers numerous interesting advantages.

The goal of the dedicated provisioning (pillar 3a), together with the 1st and 2nd pillar, to preserve the accustomed standard of living in retirement and to finance further individual requirements such as early retirement. In addition, with this state-promoted pension scheme you can also close any gaps in provision, benefit from tax relief and build up your assets faster thanks to attractive interest rates and/or an investment in securities. At the same time, you can make flexible deposits up to a specified maximum amount and withdraw or pledge capital before you retire in order to acquire residential property.

The three-pillar concept

1st pillar		2nd pillar		3rd pillar
Securing your basic needs		Maintaining your accustomed standard of living		Individual needs
State pension		Occupational provision		Private pension provision
State old-age / invalidity insurance	Supplementary benefits	Occupational pension scheme	Accident insurance scheme	"Tied" pension provision 3a	Free-access pension provision 3b

"Tied" pension provision (pillar 3a) means that, in contrast to free-access pension provision (pillar 3b), you may withdraw your pension savings prior to retirement only under certain conditions. For this reason it also enjoys preferential tax treatment.

Even today, you have plenty to look forward to

You can benefit from the advantages of tied pension provision if you have an income that is subject to AHV contributions¹. Your savings plan can be individually structured according to your current situation in life and future plans.

Make flexible deposits

Adjust the level of your annual deposits in accordance with your current financial situation.

- For employed persons with a pension fund the maximum annual deposit is CHF 7,258². In the case of dual-income couples, both spouses may deduct their pension contributions from their taxable income.
- Employed persons without a pension fund may deposit up to 20% of their earned income but no more than CHF 36,288².

Save taxes, year by year

With Savings 3 you can enjoy tax relief every year. In addition to the income tax deduction, withholding tax, wealth tax and income tax on interest income are also waived. When the sum is paid out, tax is levied at a reduced rate and separately from your other income. The following examples show you what impact retirement savings can have on your budget.

Examples of annual tax savings in Swiss francs

Taxable income		Total taxes (federal, canton, municipal, church)		Tax savings per annum
Without Savings 3	With Savings 3	Without Savings 3	With Savings 3
CHF 90,000	CHF 82,742	CHF 5,728	CHF 4,869	CHF 859
CHF 120,000	CHF 112,742	CHF 9,655	CHF 8,617	CHF 1,038
CHF 150,000	CHF 142,742	CHF 14,949	CHF 13,487	CHF 1,462

Assumptions used in the calculation: Employed person with a pension fund, deposit of CHF 7,258, married, two children, Catholic, resident in Zug, no taxable assets (tax rate federal / canton / municipality / church for 2025)

¹ Continuation beyond OASI retirement age is possible under certain conditions.

² As a rule, these maximum sums are reviewed by the Federal Council every two years.

This information is current as of 2025.

Use your Savings 3 capital in special personal circumstances

The capital is tied up until five years before you reach the regular (AHV) retirement age.

However, you can still draw on your Savings 3 capital:

- to buy or build your own home
- to pay off a mortgage on your own home
- to take up a self-employed activity
- to emigrate permanently abroad
- to buy into your pension fund (2nd pillar)
- in the event of full disability

Partial withdrawals may be made only to finance owner-occupied residential property (every five years).

Are you planning to finance your own home?

The Savings 3 scheme is also attractive for younger savers as it gives them the opportunity to make an early withdrawal or pledge Savings 3 assets in order to buy their own home. If you already own your own home, you can use the annual deposit sum to pay off the mortgage debt indirectly or pay down existing mortgages with the Savings 3 capital.
